

HAY Production 101

Join us for this two session program discussing the most relevant topics to help producers maximize their hay yields. This program will be conducted digitally in two sessions, June 4th at 1 pm and June 11th at 1 pm. The cost of the program is $10.25 and will carry one CEU credit. To register, visit this link:

<https://agriliferegister.tamu.edu/Hay>

Topics to Include

Session 1-

Advantages to Baleage
Choosing a Warm Season Perennial Variety
Soil Quality Determination and Fertilizer Needs
Managing an Established Stand to Meet Goals
Herbicides and Hay Meadows

Session 2-

Marketing Your Hay
Forage Quality and Animal Nutrition
Pros and Cons to Controlled Burns
Plants as Indicators of Soil Fertility

The members of Texas A&M AgriLife will provide equal opportunities in programs and activities, education, and employment to persons regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, sexual orientation or gender identity and will strive to achieve equal employment opportunity through access provided, please contact Jessica Rymel by phone at 903.796.5391 at least 2 weeks prior to the program.

The members of Texas A&M AgriLife will provide equal opportunities in programs and activities, education, and employment to persons regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, sexual orientation or gender identity and will strive to achieve equal employment opportunity through access provided, please contact Jessica Rymel by phone at 903.796.5391 at least 2 weeks prior to the program.

The members of Texas A&M AgriLife will provide equal opportunities in programs and activities, education, and employment to persons regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, sexual orientation or gender identity and will strive to achieve equal employment opportunity through access provided, please contact Jessica Rymel by phone at 903.796.5391 at least 2 weeks prior to the program.